Open Access Directory

The Open Access Directory (OAD) is a compendium of simple factual lists about open access (OA) to science and scholarship, maintained by the OA community at large. By bringing many OA-related lists together in one place, OAD makes it easier for everyone to discover them and use them for reference. The easier they are to maintain and discover, the more effectively they can spread useful, accurate information about OA. Adding information to the OAD is easy. See our help section and contact us if you still have questions.

OAD is a wiki and we count on our users to keep these lists accurate, comprehensive, and up to date. Our goal is for the OA community itself to maintain the lists with little intervention from the editors or editorial board. For quality control, we limit editing privileges to registered users. We welcome your contributions to the lists, ideas for new lists, and comments to help us improve OAD. Please contact us or use the discussion tabs on individual pages. OAD is hosted by the Graduate School of Library and Information Science at Simmons College and supervised by an independent editorial board.

Welcome to our newest list: Author addenda

- OAD News: Jean-Claude Guedon, Professor of Comparative Literature from the University of Montreal, has joined us as Associate Editor. We are so pleased to have him help us support our growing number of lists and to advance open access.

Thank you to everyone one who supported us, contributed lists, added content, and helped get the word out.

Este nuevo Directorio OAD es un compendio de las principales cuestiones sobre el acceso abierto a la información científica, mantenida por la Comunidad Open Access en general y su objetivo es centralizar toda la información y que sirva de lugar de referencia para todos los interesados ya que es una wiki abierta a la participación de todos estando entre sus fundadores Peter Suber y John Wilbanks, de Science Commons, y Alma Swan.

En este directorio REDVET y RECVET comparte lugar con 109 revistas de OA aunque de Veterinaria solo está de momento, aparte de las dos editadas por Veterinaria.org, la revista American Veterinary Medical Association que edita la American Veterinary Medical Association (AVMA) y que fue transformada en OA en Mayo de 2008.
